G. Michael Kabot, D.D.S., M.S.

With more than 21 years in private orthodontic practice, G. Michael Kabot, D.D.S., M.S., possesses outstanding credentials that instill confidence in children and adults. A graduate of Albion College and the University of Detroit School of Dentistry, Dr. Kabot also completed a general practice residency at Sinai Hospital, where he worked with many different specialists prior to his orthodontic residency.

"The experience was priceless," says Dr. Kabot, who is also a Diplomat of the American Board of Orthodontics. "I use this education every day in my office."

Dr. Kabot's goal is to provide his patients with the highest quality orthodontics and functional orthopedics available, at a fair and reasonable price.

"We run a very efficient practice," says Dr. Kabot, whose team follows a "no waiting" policy. "Our entire staff takes great pride in providing excellent customer service."

The modern, open office is comfortable, and it's close to being completely digital and paperless. Many members of Dr. Kabot's own family, including his three sons, enhance the patient-friendly atmosphere.

Dr. Kabot's wife, Christina, runs TK Orthodontic Laboratories, an in-house lab that can make appliances within 24 hours in emergency situations.

"The greatest advancement in the last 20 to 30 years has been the development of early interceptive orthodontics, or functional orthopedics. By using functional appliances, we can help young children grow and develop properly," Dr. Kabot says, "Half of our practice is 7- to 10-year-old patients. These children actually avoid many of the aggressive orthodontic treatments that include head gear, extractions, jaw surgery, and the famous three- to four-year braces."

In his spare time, Dr. Kabot restores not teeth, but muscle — as in muscle cars of the 1960s, antique Chris-Crafts, and Harley-Davidsons. His practice is also deeply involved with local schools and charities. Dr. Kabot has even influenced the next generation of orthodontists. "To date, we have had nine of our patients become dentists, and one [is] on his way to becoming an orthodontist," Dr. Kabot says.
